

17th Annual Educators Institute

"The Teacher, The Forgotten Person in Education" will be the theme of the Seventeenth Annual Mental Health Institute for Educators sponsored by the Massachusetts Association for Mental Health. The institute will take place at the Wellesley High School, October 21.

Why the emphasis on the teacher this year? "Because people sometimes forget the strategic importance of the teacher with all the emphasis on special programs in education from the poverty program to teaching machines," says Mrs. Dorothy Kunberger, chairman of the Institute's Planning Committee and a counselor at Bigelow Junior High School in Newton.

"Teachers interact with students," says Mrs. Kunberger, "and only teachers can offer students the relationship in which learning can take place. A teacher needs to know more than the content of the curriculum; teaching also requires understanding oneself, one's students, and the groups and situations in which one works. It is the aim of this institute to provide a laboratory in which this understanding can be cultivated."

The Leo Berman Memorial Address at the institute will be delivered by John Holt, Boston teacher and author of the book, "How Children Fail." A sequel to this book, "How Children Learn," is scheduled for publication this September. Mr. Holt has taught for many years in elementary and secondary schools and now teaches English to grades 9 - 11 at the Commonwealth School in Boston. Before becoming a teacher, he worked several years in the world government movement.

As in previous years, there will be small discussion groups at the institute which will be led by psychiatrists from Boston's leading hospitals and medical schools. Co-sponsors for the institute are the Psychiatric Service of Beth Israel Hospital and the Massachusetts Teachers Association.

The conference will be open to all professional persons working with children from nursery school thru elementary, junior, and senior high schools, and college faculty. This includes private and parochial schools. Registration is $4.50 for the entire conference, including luncheon, and checks should be made payable to the Massachusetts Association for the Mental Health, 38 Chauncy Street, Boston.

ALA Urges Police "Throw Book" At Sick Pranksters

BOSTON - The Automobile Legal Association today urged police to "throw the book" at sick pranksters who throw objects from bridges at cars passing below.

"Even objects like pumpkins can become lethal weapons when they smash through the windshield of a fast-moving car," Philip C. Wallwork, ALA safety director, said.

"Pranksters who find fun in such actions are potential murderers and they should be relentlessly tracked down and punished as strongly as the laws allow," Wallwork said.

A motorist was killed recently on a superhighway in New Hampshire when a plastic bag filled with water was dropped from an overpass and smashed through his windshield. A few days ago, on a superhighway in Massachusetts, a pumpkin hurled from an overpass crashed through the windshield of a bus. The driver and 38 passengers narrowly escaped serious injury or death.

"There's no excuse for these thoughtless actions and police should throw the book at all sick pranksters involved," the ALA official said.

MORENO TO RUN---

Makes Serious Charges Against Opponents

V. R. MORENO

First, may I express my deep and heartfelt thanks to every voter who supports my candidacy for selectman of Agawam, and to every person throughout our town who has been and is working in my behalf. I am certain that we will find on Election Day that a majority of the nine thousand voters of Agawam will concur with the judgement of those who have endorsed me and those men and women who are supporting my candidacy.

Secondly, may I concede in all honesty and candor that I, Valentine R. Moreno, a lifelong Democrat, have always put Agawam above political favor. My candidacy as an Independent is to overcome the power politics as practiced by both the Democrat and Republican candidates. I have learned --- and, indeed, the hard way --- that there comes a time when a candidate --- for the best interests and welfare of the town must be replaced.

But to all of those people who demand capable government and are supporting my candidacy and championing my cause, may I emphasize that this, my opening statement, is only a prelude to what is to come. I will make charges and prove that both candidates opposing me should not be entrusted with the fate of the residents of Agawam.

I charge the present Board of Selectmen with appointing personnel who are in conflict --- with exercising illegal acts --- with deliberate acts of harassment to further their own selfish whims --- with disrupting legal and proper functioning of departments --- with assuming authority not given to them by law --- with ordering and directing that laws be broken --- and with being guilty of malfeasance in office.

I charge the Republican candidate with indecisiveness --- with lack of ability --- with being the tool of certain individuals --- with offering unconstitutional proposals --- with allowing a board he was a member of to operate illegally --- and more.

This is just a preliminary to the main bouts which are to come. No candidate having strong convictions as I have of public duty and expressing them without fear can hope to escape criticism; and the worse the men or the policies I antagonize, the more certain it is that this criticism will be violent, unscrupulous and vituperative.

I have been willing, through the years, to incur the hatred and abuse of the uninformed, the power politicians, the sweet talkers, etc. if, thereby, I could accomplish something for the welfare of Agawam. It would have been easier and much more agreeable to me personally to raise no issue which would provoke retaliation, but I must perform my public duties as I see them.

My record is public, my reputation of being controversial has been established by those who haven't the knowledge nor courage to administer the town's affairs.

I never have and never will become a pawn of anyone who will cause hurt to the welfare of the townspeople of Agawam.

I, therefore, announce my candidacy for the office of selectman.

V. R. Moreno

WESTFIELD SAVINGS SEPT. RECORD HIGH

WESTFIELD - Savings deposits at Westfield Savings Bank were at a record $45,896,913 on September 29, Arthur W. Knapp, president, told the quarterly meeting of the board of trustees at the Sheraton Inn, Monday night. Henry F. Burrows, chairman of the board, presided.

Mr. Knapp told the trustees the gain in savings for the three-month period ending September 29 was $513,184, and that the gain for the full year was $2,747,797.

Real estate loans were also at a record high figure, $38,469,740, with the gain for the last three months totaling $416,848.

Mr. Knapp said mortgage demand is remaining strong. "and we anticipate that this situation will continue for the rest of the year and into 1968."

Total assets of Westfield Savings on September 29 were an all-time high of $52,779,399.

Mr. Knapp noted it was only early this year that Westfield Savings reached the milestone figure of $50 million in assets, "and our continued growth is evident, as we move toward the $53 million mark."

Westfield Savings Bank currently is paying an interest rate of 4-1/2 percent on special notice accounts, payable January 10, 1968.

"The year 1967 is proving to be another year of growth for Westfield Savings Bank," Mr. Knapp told the board of trustees.

Editorial*PUT THE LEAVES TO WORK

Florence Moreno

Mother Nature supplies us with free organic fertilizer at this time of the year that is richer than anything we can buy for trees, shrubs, or vegetable and flower gardens. If the leaves are spread out over the entire garden area they will protect plants from heaving during the winter. It's not the cold that winter-kills most perennials, but the occasional thaw and consequent heaving. The leaves will keep in the generous watering we will have given them before the ground freezes, and this winter-long mulch also serves to condition the soil and make it workable. The valuable nutrients supplied are thus more appreciated by growing plants than anything that comes out of a bag or bottle.

This is how we maintain the balance of nature, not by burning the manna from above.

Friends of Animals, Inc. Seeks Assistance in Humane Control of Unwanted Animals

I would like your readers to know about the Friends of Animals, Inc., a non-profit humane organization dedicated to controlling the U.S. pet population to the point where every dog and cat will have a home. This could be accomplished through the widespread spaying of female pets, which FoA subsidizes for those who cannot afford the regular fees.

Every year there are born in the U.S. 25 million more puppies and kittens than there are homes available. Six million, the more fortunate, are destroyed by humane societies; the other 19 million starve, freeze, or die of disease. A kitten or pup given away free has but one chance in 5 of gaining a permanent home. It has been estimated that one unsprayed cat or dog surviving with its progeny for ten years would produce 2 billion, 300 million, cats or dogs! It would seem that the positive program of spaying is a far happier alternative to euthanasia, and a program worthy of support.

The Friends of Animals is active in 24 states, represented by 120 volunteers and over 250 veterinarians who accept reduced fees under the certificate plan. Your city needs a volunteer. Any animal lover willing to give 3 or 4 hours work (at home) per week, may write to the Boston area representative: Miss M.J. Gorton, 82 Larchwood Drive, Cambridge 38, Mass. Contributions are tax deductible and may be sent to Friends of Animals, Inc., 17 W. 60th St., New York City, 10023.

Regulation, Not Prohibition, Answer To Billboard Problem

SO. EGREMONT - A tourist official said today that total prohibition of billboards on interstate highways is doing a disservice to American motorists.

He suggested a compromise solution whereby informational signs listing services available at interchanges be allowed on limited-access highways.

Angus MacDonald, vice-president of the Berkshire Hills Conference, said that the lack of any tourist facilities, "they can't even get a glass of water," on the interstate highways system makes some highways signs mandatory.

"All chambers of commerce want to beautify their areas and have been in the forefront of the fight to accomplish this," MacDonald said, "but travelers should be given, somehow,

No pictures will be returned unless accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelope.

specific information on types of motels, kinds of gasoline, quality of dining facilities, etc., available at the next interchange.

"Particularly as the federal government refuses to provide such services on the interstate highways," said MacDonald, operator of Jug End, New England's largest resort.

MacDonald suggested state regulated billboards at turnoffs close to interchanges on the interstate highways listing such information.

The present "Gas - Food - Lodging" signs give precious little comfort to a traveling family looking for a particular type of gasoline, motel or restaurant, MacDonald said.

There's nothing the matter with the younger generation that the older generation didn't outgrow.

Even if space travel were established, many of us wouldn't get out of this world alive. Blasting off would scare us to death.

QUOTA ASSURED FOR CHRISTMAS GIFT SHOP

Gifts are still coming in for the Christmas Gift Shop to be held in December at Leeds Hospital.

This week, as in the past several years, a nice donation of gifts arrived from the East Agawam Current Events Club. The Unit is most grateful for their continued interest in this most worthy project of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Among the gifts received from them this year was a beautiful lap afghan, handmade, which, with their permission, will be given to some wheelchair patient in need of it. Among those who attended the recent party held by the Unit for veterans at the Holyoke Soldiers' Home were several men in wheelchairs, some of them amputees and some with limbs in casts. There is always a need for afghans there and at Leeds. We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the members of the East Agawam Current Events Club for their thoughtful gifts and continued interest.

UNIT MEETING

The next Unit meeting, the final before the installation of new officers, will be held at the Legion Home on Monday evening, October 16th. A full attendance is desired, as final arrangements will be made for installation to be held at the Junior High School on Friday evening, October 20th. This will be open to the public.

SQUARE DANCE

These crisp, cool autumn nights we are sure were invented just for square dancing - and whether you are an experienced dancer or the rawest beginner just aching to learn, the Agawam Promenaders have an event scheduled just for you.

For people interested in learning how to square dance, classes are being held each Monday night at 8 p.m. at the Sacred Heart Church Hall on William Street. Al Bessette, our club caller, is on hand to teach the basic movements of western style square dancing. We can think of no finer form of fun than square dancing. Square dancing seems to attract only the very nicest people.

Experienced dancers are reminded that the Promenaders will hold their regular dance on Friday the 13th (Who picked that date?), at 8 p.m. at the Robinson Park School on Begley Street.

A future attraction of the Promenaders that area square dancers will not want to miss is the "Dance of the Fifties," scheduled for October 27th, with caller Dick Davis of East Walpole, Mass. These dances, with many of the old-time numbers, have been a huge success in the eastern part of the state. The Agawam Promenaders are very pleased to be able to present this type of dance to all our square dancing friends. Dick Davis reminds us that no matter how long it's been since you have square danced, you can still enjoy yourself at this old-timers' dance. In fact, you'll probably do better than many newer dancers.

BERKSHIRES CHALLENGES NEW ENGLAND

ON FOLIAGE COLOR

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass. - The Massachusetts Berkshire region, claiming the perfect combination of summer sunshine and rain, has challenged the rest of New England to a foliage color contest.

The contest will be judged by Harnau Robinson Color Reproductions, nationally-known color photographers and printers, on the basis of color slides or prints submitted. Entries are welcomed from individual states or regional promotion groups, chambers of commerce, etc.

While individuals may submit their photographs, they must be submitted in the name of, and with the approval of, such groups as their official entry. The winner will receive a suitable trophy donated by the Automobile Legal Association officially naming it "No. 1 in New England fall foliage."

"According to our agricultural experts, the Berkshires, alone in New England, has received just the right amount of moisture and sunshine for the best foliage color," said Angus R. MacDonald, vice-president of the Berkshire Hills Conference.

"Naturally, we expect to win handsily but think it only sporting to give other sections of New England the feeling of, at least, having competed," said MacDonald, who also operates Jug End Resort, here.

Entries should be sent directly, according to the Berkshire Conference, to Berkshire Hills Conference, 100 North St., Pittsfield, Mass. 01203. Judging will be done as soon as possible after the foliage season.
